Human Resources and Administrative Investigations
Notification of Curriculum Use
April 2014*

The enclosed Human Resources and Administrative Investigations curriculum was developed by the Project on Addressing Prison Rape at American University, Washington College of Law as part of contract deliverables for the National PREA Resource Center (PRC), a cooperative agreement between the National Council on Crime and Delinquency and the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA). The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) standards served as the basis for the curriculum’s content and development, with the goal of the Human Resources and Administrative Investigations curriculum to satisfy specific PREA standards requirements.

It is recommended that the Human Resources and Administrative Investigations curriculum be reviewed in its entirety before choosing which modules to use. Any alterations to the original materials require either acknowledgement during their presentation or removal of the PRC and Project on Addressing Prison Rape logos.

BJA is currently undergoing a comprehensive review of the enclosed curriculum for official approval, at which point the BJA logo may be added.

Note: Use of the enclosed curriculum, either in part or in whole, does not guarantee that an auditor will find a facility “meets standards.” Rather, an auditor will take into consideration the curriculum used as part of their overall determination of compliance.

*All materials and information provided in this publication (e.g., state laws, civil case law examples, BJA statistics) are accurately represented as of October 2013.

AGENCY CULTURE

The Project on Addressing Prison Rape
January 2014

Notice of Federal Funding and Federal Disclaimer – This project was supported by Grant No. 2010-RP-BX-K001 awarded by the Bureau of Justice Assistance. The Bureau of Justice Assistance is a component of the Office of Justice Programs, which also includes the Bureau of Justice Statistics, the National Institute of Justice, the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, the Office for Victims of Crime, and the Office of Sex Offender Sentencing, Monitoring, Apprehending, Registering, and Tracking. Points of view or opinions in this document are those of the author and do not necessarily represent the official position or policies of the U.S. Department of Justice nor those of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency (NCCD), which administers the National PREA Resource Center through a cooperative agreement with the Bureau of Justice Assistance.
Objectives

1. Define agency culture
2. List and describe the components of culture
3. Identify influences on agency culture
4. Describe the impact of culture on all correctional agencies
5. Identify strategies for changing culture
Webster’s Definition of Culture

• The integrated pattern of human knowledge, belief, and behavior that depends upon the capacity for learning and transmitting knowledge to succeeding generations;

• The customary beliefs, social forms, and material traits of a racial, religious, or social group;

• The set of shared attitudes, values, goals, and practices that characterizes an institution or organization; and

• The set of values, conventions, or social practices associated with a particular field, activity, or societal characteristic.
Foundation of Culture

Culture is communication, communication is culture
Components of Agency Culture

- Beliefs: Shared explanations of experience
- Values: What is considered right and good
- Norms: Shared rules, “the way things are done”
  - Norms are often MORE powerful than formal guidelines.
Components of Agency Culture

Phantom Rules:

Rules that people create that they THINK are the real rules based on their own misunderstanding or past history - these rules have NOTHING to do with the actual rule.
Influences on Culture

- History
- Hiring process
- Promotional process
- Leadership and agency ethics
- Public opinion
Influences on Culture

- Staff-staff interactions
- Staff-inmate/ resident dynamics
- Inmate-inmate and resident-resident dynamics
- Agency policy and procedures
- Language
- Disciplinary process
What is the “Code of Silence”?

– A code of silence is when a person opts to withhold what is believed to be vital or important information voluntarily or involuntarily.

– A shroud of secrecy, agreement to keep quiet.

– The code of silence is usually either kept because of threat of force, danger to oneself, or fear of being branded as a traitor or an outcast within the unit or organization.
• How prevalent is the “Code of Silence” in corrections and law enforcement?

• National Institute of Ethics conducted survey of 3,714 police officers regarding “code of silence”.
  – 42% admitted to having witnessed misconduct by another employee but took no action.
The Employee ‘Code of Silence’

- Protection of self and co-workers and even management or supervisors
- Non-cooperation with management and investigators
- Staff will risk discipline and even termination rather than violate this powerful norm
- Culture imposes penalties on staff who break the code of silence

The Facts

- Baron, a corrections officer in Suffolk County House of Correction, witnessed a supervisor playing cards with inmates, a violation of facility policy.
- Baron filed a report, and the supervisor was suspended.
- Baron claimed that he was ostracized and harassed after making the report.
  - Defaming posters claiming Baron watched child pornography; threatening phone calls; smeared feces on his car; slashed tires.
- Hickey, another corrections officer, was the ring leader of the harassment.
  - Called him a “rat-fink” and threw cheese at him.
Baron v. Hickey,

The Facts

- Baron verbally complained on 30 separate occasions and submitted 20 reports in writing
  - Hickey was ordered to cease harassment, but not disciplined
  - A supervisor told Baron to “be a man”

- Baron was charged, and acquitted of indecent assault and battery
- Baron then suspended for five days for giving food to a female inmate
- Baron claimed that charges and suspension were retaliatory
- Baron was to be suspended for 20 days for submitting an inmate communication directly to the Boston Police rather than his supervisor, but resigned before the suspension
- Baron claimed constructive firing because of retaliation

Legal Claims and Holding

– Legal Claims:
  – First Amendment
  – Due Process
  – State law claims

– Holding
  – The supervisors’ tolerance of harassment was a “matter of public concern,” sufficient to satisfy a First Amendment claim
  – Jury awards Baron $500,000 for severe harassment

Impact of Staff Culture on Administrative Investigations

- Culture can either support or obstruct investigations
- Need to understand culture in which investigations take place
- Important for participants from other agencies to understand the features of culture in your agency
- Outcomes of investigations can in turn influence culture
- Understand the challenge of conducting independent investigations in close / small communities
Red Flags

What is a “red flag” and why is it important?

– A warning signal.

– Something that demands attention or provokes an irritated reaction.

– Red flags are actions, words, situations or settings that should warn a person that something may be wrong.
Red Flags: Staff Sexual Misconduct

- Over-identifying with any inmate/resident or their issues (i.e., blind to inmate’s actions)
- Inmates/residents know personal information about staff
- Inmate/resident has letters or photos of staff
- Staff granting special requests or showing favoritism
- Inmates/residents in unauthorized area or repeatedly out of their assigned space
Red Flags: Staff Sexual Misconduct

- Staff spending an unexplainable amount of time with inmates/residents
- Staff taking inmates/residents out of cell/housing space at unusual times
- Staff in personal crisis (divorce, ill health, bankruptcy, death in family)
- Overheard conversations between staff and inmates/residents which is sexualized in nature, or refers to the physical attributes of staff or inmates/residents
Red Flags: Staff Sexual Misconduct

- Hygiene changes for staff
- Contraband
- Creating opportunities to be alone
- Familiarity with inmates/ residents
- Extra interest in unpopular inmates/ residents
- Being only person who understands the inmates/ residents
Challenges for Leadership

• Discover the root of the problem
• Problem can be a symptom of the culture
• Addressing the problem in a systematic way is about cultural change
• Cultural change is the challenge for leadership
  – Must shift deeply ignored norms and attitudes
  – Ideology and attitude lies in key positions
Inmate/ Resident Culture:
A Toxic Recipe

- Development is often delayed or interrupted clearly affecting rational decision-making for adults and residents
- Impulsiveness, risk taking, short-sightedness
- Histories of victimization -- abuse & neglect, mental illness, developmental delays, academic failure/ special education
- Questionable staff ethics such as sexual joking and innuendos, tolerance, complacency
Inmate/ Resident Culture

- Peer Pressure
- Dangers in refusal, reporting [snitching]
- Language
- Code of Silence
- Criminal Thinking
- Survival
- Protection
Inmate/ Resident Culture

• Group Affiliations
• Companionship/Friend
• Reputation
• Fear
• Deprivation
• Curiosity/Exploration
Differences for Short-term Facilities

• May have fewer “consensual” sexual relationships

• More sexual acting out directly off the street

• More drug/alcohol withdrawal influenced sexual behaviors

• More crowding & less opportunity for staff to observe

• Inmates/ residents less affected by concern with long-term safety & reputation within facility
3 Steps to Culture Change

- Understand the current culture (the way things are now)
- Decide what the organizational culture should look like to support success
- The individuals in the organization must decide to change their behavior to create the desired culture
Strategies for Changing Agency Culture

• Involve all key entities:
  – Line Staff, mid-management, management
  – Governing boards/CJPO/CEO
  – External stakeholders (law enforcement, prosecutors)
• A top-down approach is essential to success of culture change
• Ensure that behavior matches policies, good policies that are not actually practiced does not work
• Create a culture and community of accountability
• Model the behavior
PREA Commission Report states:

- Sexual abuse is not an inevitable feature of incarceration.

- Leadership matters. Corrections administrators can create a culture within facilities that promotes safety instead of one that tolerates abuse.
Strategies for Changing Agency Culture

Envision the big picture
- Define your agency/organization mission, vision and values

Change the organizational culture
- Executive Support
- Training
  - Include community partners and experts
Strategies for Changing Agency Culture

- Create value and belief statements
- Evaluate whether staff at all levels buy into the value and belief statements
- Target areas where there are disconnects
  - Practice effective communication
  - Review organizational structure
  - Redesign your approach to rewards and recognition
Strategies for Changing Agency Culture

- Meet with local officials regarding culture change within the agency
- Inform local officials about your culture change initiatives and invest them in the success of them
- Involve other key stakeholders [inmates/ residents, families, religious community, advocates]
Strategies for Changing Staff Culture

• Conduct appropriate screening during hiring process

• Define boundaries for employees through policies that are clear, concise and definitive about what is acceptable and unacceptable

• Provide employees appropriate tools for self assessment, to help them learn when they might be crossing boundaries

• Provide employees with access to advice and assistance when they have concerns and questions about boundaries
Strategies for Changing the Staff “Code of Silence”

- Create a culture where staff place loyalty to agency’s mission above loyalty to other staff/peers/supervisors
- Place honor above loyalty to other staff members/friends/peers
- Behavior must be modeled by all levels of management on down to line staff
- Regular training on ethics is absolutely necessary
Strategies for Changing the Staff “Code of Silence”

Create opportunities for discussion about:
- Professionalism
- Mission and purpose of work
- Sexual dynamics
- Appropriate inmate/residents sexual behavior in detention

Create environment for staff to support each other:
- Recognize red flags
- Safe outreach to each other:
  - Are you ok?
  - I am concerned about you...
Strategies for Changing Staff Culture

Make it clear that you take the issue of sexual abuse of inmates/residents seriously

- Develop a firm zero tolerance policy
- Zero tolerance must mean zero tolerance
- Consequence: Something has to happen to someone

Model the behavior daily

- Insist that all managers and supervisors do the same
- The culture will not tolerate hypocrisy
- Consequences must be fair and consistent

Train, train, train on expectations
Strategies for Changing Staff Culture

Educate staff

- Requirements of the law
- Liability of management and staff
- Human resources consequences
- Criminal consequences
- Professionalism and ethics
- Development
- Sexual Dynamics
Strategies for Changing Staff Culture

• Train and support first line supervisors in their efforts to supervise employees, and recognize red flags

• Ensure that there are open dialogues specific to the issue
  – Regular employee meetings
  – Regular discussions and sharing of information and concerns
What Are the Strategies for Changing Inmate/Resident Culture?

• Change the environment
  – Create an environment in the facility where inmates/residents feel safe reporting sexual abuse and are confident their allegations will be investigated.

• Orient and educate inmates/residents
  – Teach inmates/residents about boundaries, being safe and how to report abuse, their rights and responsibilities

• Empower inmates/residents
  – Allow inmates/residents to have responsibilities; peer mentors
